The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:05 o'clock A. M.) the House took a recess until 10 o'clock A. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 10 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Whitaker) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The hour having arrived for the reconvening of the House, after the recess of this morning, the House will be in order.

RESOLUTION DECLARING OFFICE OF SPEAKER VACANT.

Mr. DITHRICH offered a resolution, which was twice read as follows:

Resolved, That the office of Speaker of this House is hereby declared vacant and that the House proceed forthwith to elect a Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, in offering this resolution I want to make it clear that this is not done for the purpose of chastising or rebuking the Speaker-elect of this House for his conduct. That is farthest from the intention or the purpose of this resolution. This resolution is offered in the best interest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We feel that it is vitally necessary to complete the work of this General Assembly that this action be taken at this time. Bills, to become laws, must be signed by the Speaker, and unless we know that such action will be taken, the work of the remaining days of this session could be frustrated and blocked. Let me repeat, that it is not for the purpose of chastising any man or any group of men, because the best interests of the Commonwealth transcend the political strength of any man or any group of men. That is the purpose of this resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

The SPEAKER. It is now in order to receive nominations for the office of Speaker, which nominations will be received and the election conducted by the Chief Clerk.

CHIEF CLERK (THOMAS H. GARVIN) PRESIDING.

The CHIEF CLERK. The House will now proceed to the nomination of a Speaker.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Chief Clerk, I have the honor and pleasure of nominating for the office of Speaker of this House, the gentleman from Chester, Honorable Samuel A. Whitaker.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Chief Clerk, I second the nomination.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that nominations close.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Chief Clerk, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The CHIEF CLERK. The Honorable Samuel A. Whitaker being nominated to the office of Speaker of this House and the motion being made, seconded and agreed to that nominations do now close, the Clerk will proceed to the call of the roll.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Chief Clerk, I will ask the Chair to announce how a member shall cast his vote for Speaker.

The CHIEF CLERK. As your name is called, you will rise in your place and announce the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote.

The CHIEF CLERK. The Speaker-elect, Hon. Samuel A. Whitaker.

ADDRESS BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. Gentlemen, I thank you for this election. In accepting the office I want to express my intention to carry on the duties with fairness as far as I am able to do so. I realize that the office of Speaker and the rules of the House and all other machinery for legislative action has but one purpose in view, and that is: To express in an orderly and legal manner the will of the majority of the Representatives of the Commonwealth. For that purpose and to that end I desire and intend to use every effort to enable the majority of the representation of the House to express their views and to enact such legislation as may properly come before them. With your co-operation and strict attention to duty I have no doubt that in a short time this session can be wound up having completed its work by the date set for adjournment.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 439.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 21, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 439, entitled "An act to amend section fifteen of an act, approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws, five hundred and seventy-two), entitled 'An act to provide for the protection and preservation of game, game quadrupeds and game birds, and song and insectivorous and other wild birds, and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions', as amend".

Under this bill the Game Commission would be required, upon the petition of two hundred citizens engaged in agriculture, stock raising or bee culture, stating that bears have become a nuisance in any county, to declare said county open for the killing of bears. It gives the Game Commission no power to investigate and determine whether the allegations of the petition are well-founded, or any other discretion, but automatically opens the way for the extermination of bears in the county.

The bill is directly contrary to the general policy of the State with reference to game, and the Board of Game Commissioners, to whom we must look for advice in these matters, is vigorously opposed to it. Under the present law a bear may be killed at any time when within half a mile of a man's home, or if it commits any depredations it may be followed and killed at any season of the year. No reason appears why, upon a small petition, which might be the result of the whimsical energy of any one, all the bears in a county should be ruthlessly destroyed. The black and brown bears of Pennsylvania are generally harmless and inoffensive. They are often called the "clowns of the wood" and to thus give a few citizens the right to exterminate them in an entire county would be deplorable.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. SPROWLS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILLS NO. 187 AND 1066.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 25, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 187, entitled: "A further supplement to an act approved the first day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and thirteen) entitled 'An act to accept the grant of public lands by the United States to the several states for the endowment of Agricultural Colleges' making a deficiency appropriation for carrying the same into effect".

Approved the 25th day of April A. D. 1921 in the sum of $251,000.00. I with-hold my approval from the remainder of said appropriation because of insufficient State revenue.

Also House Bill No. 1066, entitled: "An act requiring persons partnerships associations or corporations advertising for or soliciting business as adjusters of claims within this Commonwealth for loss or damage arising out of policies of insurance surety or indemnity on property persons or insurable business interests within this Commonwealth to be licensed by the Insurance Commissioner".

WM. C. SPROUL.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 25, 1921.
Whereas, During several sessions of the General Assembly merchants have petitioned for the repeal of the mercantile tax law; and
Whereas, Repeal of the said law has been sought for reasons including the following; That it is a class tax and thereby un-American; That its administration is inequitable; and That in the case of corporation it amounts to double taxation; and
Whereas, It is believed that merchants are willing to pay any honest taxation equitably laid and administered, and
Whereas, Repeal of the said law is not advisable during the present session of the General Assembly, owing to unusual requirements upon the State for revenue, therefor be it
Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor shall appoint a commission of nine, consisting of three members of the Senate, three members of the House of Representatives and three citizens of the Commonwealth, to investigate the alleged inequalities of the mercantile tax law and its administration. The commission shall make a report with recommendations to the next general session of the General Assembly, including such drafts of legislation as it may deem necessary for the consideration of the General Assembly. The total expense of this commission shall not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) which shall be provided for by an item in the general appropriation bill.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I demand the right to preside over this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair replies to the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, that in accordance with the action of this House the office of Speaker was declared vacant and a new Speaker has been elected. That new Speaker now occupies the Chair.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege concerning the Assembly.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I more than any one regret the unfortunate situation that we of this House have found ourselves in. As your Speaker I have, from the very beginning, tried to be fair, and I think my fairness has been evidenced to you on many occasions. At the time of my election I pledged that I would be fair to all of you and to all elements of the party. When I appointed my committees, and before these committees were finally ratified and announced, they were submitted to the State Chairman; they were submitted to the Secretary of the Senate; they were submitted to the Governor of the Commonwealth and they received the O. K. of all of them. During the entire session and up to the present time, wherever there was an opportunity to help and to assist the members of this House, I have been there. During the past week there started a parliamentary squabble and every one of my rulings was made in accordance with parliamentary law, and you members sustained me in every move that I made. Is there a member here who can complain that I have ever taken advantage of him? Is there a member here who can say I have ever attempted to be unfair? Is there a member here who can say that my treatment this morning has been anything but disgraceful? Gentlemen of the House, under the general parliamentary law it must be necessary for the Speaker of this House to preserve the dignity and the integrity of this body. That, gentlemen, I have attempted to do. There is one thing, above all others, that a legislative body must protect, and that is, its own independence, and when a legislative body, I care not where it may be, permits its judgment to be carried away; permits itself to be bulldozed, permits itself to be harassed; permits itself to be intimidated, then a crisis has arrived in the Republican form of government and, sir, I would ten thousand times rather go down to defeat than to permit any clique, any bosses or any intimidation from the other end of this Hall to crush me.

Now, what has been the situation here? Have you gentlemen been free agents to do as you please, or have persons made threats against you and intimidated you? I have an article here of Friday's Philadelphia Public Ledger, written by Mr. Odell Hauser, in which we find that the other end of this capitol has been determined to force through this House certain legislation irrespective of whether parliamentary rules were used or whether they were trampled under foot. Is that what this Legislature will stand for? Let us see. "Governor Summons Committee." In the first place, the sub-committee of the Health and Sanitation Committee, which has the bill in its custody, showed a decided coyness about meeting the Governor for the conference on the bill which was supposed to be the object of its creation. The Governor and his advisers believed firmly that if that sub-committee were left to itself it would forget the way to the Executive office. So the sub-committee was sent for.

"Before he was out of his bed this morning Dr. Steedle, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Health and Sanitation Committee, was notified by one of the Governor's confidants that the Governor would look upon any attempt by the committee to smother the bill as a distinctly unfriendly act. He was also told the Sinclair sub-committee had better find its way to his office. There was considerable plain language used with Dr. Steedle, as there was with Representative Duncan Sinclair, chairman of the sub-committee, when the latter answered the Governor's summons.

"It was made plain that every step was to be taken that would prevent the success of the plan to keep the bill in committee until the end of the session.

"Another step was a heart-to-heart talk between the Governor and Bromley Wharton, secretary and general manager of the Board of Public Charities, one of the agencies the new bill will displace."

Now, gentlemen, let me say this to you: That, for the last two months I have received complaints concerning interference with this body—interference with individual members, interference with the committee work of our body of which we are the only and the sole judge and of which we, if there is anything wrong, have the right, under our own rules, to correct. I was no later than on last Friday, after adjournment, approached in my office by a man who came to me and said, "I do not know what to do; I have been harassed; I have been intimidated; I have even had my appropriation for my hospital threatened unless I, a member of the sub-committee, was willing to go along and report that bill out."

Now these are the things, gentlemen of this House, that you and I and all have been subjected to. Even the Secretary of the Governor came up to that rostrum while I was there, and wanted me to declare myself as to how I would decide on certain questions of order. And if they will do that too me, what will they do to the ordinary member. If I have treated you unjustly in my ruling, where has it been? Last evening a member called for the order of the day. I merely did what I had a right to do, what any member has a right to do. Any member on the floor of this House has a right to demand that the spectators be cleared away, and the Speaker is forced to acquiesce and clear the floor, and enforce any other rule called for. This was the orders of the day and that is what I have done. Do you think gentlemen that because I have done what I believed to be my duty, that I should be, without word to me, your Speaker, dismissed from your body? Is that kindness? Is that consideration? Is that fairness? I leave the matter, gentlemen of the House, in your hands. If you feel that your independence has been jeopardized, you can correct it. I have always stood for the independence of this body, and against the tyranny or the oppression of anybody that could molest or interfere with the free exercise of its will. I believe at this time Republican institutions are at stake in this State. This House must either assert its independence or it must recognize certain masters who are determined to put two measures through, no matter what happens, even though, as they said, they have to blow the dome off the capitol. These are the things that you are interested in and must consider. I have throughout this session maintained my independence; I have nothing to apologize for; I have nothing to regret, but if I have done anything wrong in enforcing the rights of this House, then I should like to know it. Let me say to you, the matter is in your hands. I am willing to step aside if the membership of this House so determine, or I am willing to continue on as your presiding officer if the House so decides. But, sir, I would a thousand times rather leave this body altogether than to stultify myself by allowing any outside influence to tell this Legislature—to tell this House of Representatives—what it shall do, when it shall do it, and how it shall do it, whether it is right or wrong. I have finished.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, will be printed in the Legislative Journal as part of the record.

MOTION TO EXPUNGE PROCEEDINGS FROM THE JOURNAL.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the proceedings of this House between the hours from 12:15 A. M., Tuesday, April 26, 1921, until 11 A. M. of the same date, be expunged from the Journal of the House.

I hold that these proceedings were irregular and out of accord with the Constitution of Pennsylvania. I read from that document on page 357, section 13:

"Sessions shall be open. The sessions of each House and of Committees of the Whole shall be open, unless when the business is such as ought to be kept secret."

Mr. Speaker, I hold that the business transacted was not business that should have been kept secret. I myself, as well as numerous other members, attempted to pass through the doors of this hall, and they were barred against those on the inside to get out, and they were barred against those on the outside to come in. These proceedings were not in the open, they are clearly unconstitutional, and I move that the record of the proceedings be expunged from the Journal of this House.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, replying to the gentleman from Lancaster, when we proceeded to organize the House after the Speaker had arbitrarily declared the session adjourned and vacated the Chair, the high office to which we had elected him, the doors of the House were ordered locked to ascertain if a quorum were present, and after the roll had been called and it was disclosed that a quorum was present, those doors were open to members. For a time there was some confusion and there were a number of people who were not entitled to the floor of the House who attempted to gain an entrance and those people were barred. It was extremely unfortunate if any member of the House was excluded because of the enforcement of the rule which entitled him to the privilege of the floor, but sir, I submit that the proceedings were entirely regular and in accordance with the Constitution and that access to the floor of this House was denied to no member-elect.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this motion by the gentleman from Lancaster raises a question which ought to receive the careful and serious consideration of every member, because if this House is not proceeding in a lawful way every bill that would be passed by it will be illegal; it will be in violation of the Constitution of this Commonwealth and it will be stricken down, if illegal, by the courts afterwards. Therefore, I say to you that you ought to be careful and determine whether we are proceeding legally. Are we proceeding in pursuance to the laws of this House and the Constitution of this Commonwealth. Allow me, Mr. Speaker, to call your attention to Rule 54 of this House, which provides, "That the House will convene on Mondays at 8 o'clock P. M. and adjourn at 10 o'clock P. M." In other words, on Monday at 10 o'clock under the rule it is the duty of this House to adjourn if any member ask that it be done under the rules. That was done at 12:15 o'clock A. M. on Tuesday when that question was raised, and the Speaker when that question was raised declared that this House was adjourned. If you had desired to get away from the effect of this ruling you had an opportunity. Last night you could have made a motion that this rule, No. 54, be suspended for the purpose of transacting business until such time as you might name, and if carried by a majority vote then the House could continue business until that time. But you didn't do so, and that rule was in effect at 12:15 when the question was raised and the Speaker declared the session adjourned. If we assume that the ruling of our Speaker was wrong, for the purpose of argument, there was only one way that the question could be raised and that was by an appeal from the decision of the Speaker making the ruling of the Speaker wrong in declaring the House adjourned. However, you did not do it; you organized a House on another calendar day when Monday had passed. You made a new organization and what you did was illegal. Again, Mr. Speaker, this House adjourned at 12:15 A. M. on Tuesday, under the orders of the Chief Clerk of this House, with absolutely no authority whatever, the doors of this House were barred and no member within could go out or no member who was out could come in. That continued, I am advised, until 12:55 this morning with members who were outside trying to gain entrance and you, Mr. Speaker, with other members of the House were here transacting business and they could not take part in the business and in the reading of bills. I wish to say to you, in conclusion, Rule 54 was in force at that time and you did not follow it; you did not appeal from the decision of the Speaker and hence that was the rule of the House that was in force. Your meeting after that time was without any recognition in law, whatever, and you were transacting business behind closed doors. Do you want in these closing days of the assembly to have every bill which is now passed declared unconstitutional by our courts? Do you want to run that risk? If you do, proceed; use the force, the continuous intimidation and threats which have come from various sources. But if you want to proceed in an orderly, legal, proper way as your constituents expect you to proceed, pass this motion, then take up the business of the House with the right Speaker again, who has been fair; who has treated you all alike and against whom you have made no accusation whatever for the action taken when he adjourned this House at 12:15 last night to meet at 11 o'clock this morning. Without any notice whatever you met at 10 o'clock, no notice to him whatever, vacated his office and elected another Speaker. Is there any law for that? Is there any righteousness in that? If there is, I don't know what it is.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, you have had demonstrated to you this morning the ability of the opponents of the administration and of the State committee to filibuster. You had last night what will be under the Journal, declared absolutely constitutional for no court in this State can inquire into the proceedings of this House, and when these proceedings are adopted by a majority of the membership. Last night there was no question put to us as to whether we would adjourn or not. The orders of the day was called for and Rule 54 had been set aside as to last night last week, when this House determined that it would sit after ten o'clock. Rule 54 provides that on Monday nights the House shall meet at eight o'clock and adjourn at ten o'clock. We had a special order fixed last week on the Kohler bill for 10:15. We therefore absolutely suspended that rule and we sat here until 12:15 before the orders of the day, as they were alleged to exist, were called. That cannot be gotten around by any Supreme Court in this State. Furthermore, having passed the orders of the day, as they were written in Rule 54, the only way we could adjourn would be by a regular motion, seconded and put to the House, and as the gentleman from Allegheny who has preceded me says, that was not put to the House. The orders of the day were called and the Speaker last night told us that the House had adjourned. If the constitutionality of our action is only based on that which is presented to you by the gentleman from Lancaster you can go home perfectly satisfied that there is no Supreme Court in this State, no, nor the Supreme Court of the United States, could set any action aside that we have taken. It has been argued to-day that these sessions were secret. The fallacy of that argument is shown in the fact that the rear of the House and the sides of the House and the front corners of the House were filled with visitors, and that gallery was wide open.

If they were secret sessions, every one not a member would have been cleared from the room. The doors were closed in accordance with the procedure of this House, adopted when we adopted the rules of 1919, thereby to find whether we had here a quorum to transact business. That quorum being present, we not having voted on the question to adjourn, we were perfectly justified in proceeding as we did. Furthermore, it has been suggested to us to-day that intimidation has been used. Granting that that statement, for the purpose of argument, is true, why didn't the other side be fair and tell us the intimidations which have come from their side to some of our members. Why don't they tell about the threats that have been made if they did not go along with the anti-administrationists? I feel that this matter has been discussed thoroughly and that filibustering ought to end as quickly as possible and therefore, Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question, and ask that the motion of the gentleman from Lancaster be defeated.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Baldi, Burns, Catlin, Conner, Davis, DeHaas, Dilsheimer, Dithrich, Dunn, Franklin, Glass, Golder, Harer, Harry, Heffernan, Krause, Love, McCaig, McCarthy, Joseph Marcus, J. W. Smith, Sowers, George T. Walker, Zook, and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Edmonds and Mr. Alexander.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was taken and verified as follows:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill concerning which you got many telegrams and protests against the Senate amendments to this bill. We passed this bill and the Senate attached the amendments that have to do with the raising of the fees on motor vehicles. Now, I have not had a chance to go very carefully into it, but I want to call your attention to the fact that these amendments raise the license fees on motor vehicles. If any member wishes to move to non-concur in the amendments, I, as sponsor of the bill have no objections. I think the proper course for me to pursue in the premises is to leave the matter with the members of the House to act upon this bill as they choose now in the manner of these amendments.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House nonconcur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1687, (Senate Bill No. 882), entitled:

An Act to empower the Public Service Commission to require railroad corporations to employ an adequate number of men upon trains and to repeal an act approved the nineteenth day of June nineteen hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and fifty-three) entitled "An act to promote the safety of travelers and employees upon railroad by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains"

The first section was read as follows:

Secton 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Public Service Commission created by the Public Service Company Law approved July twenty-sixth one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws thirteen hundred and seventy-four) shall have power after hearing upon notice by order in writing to require any railroad corporation as defined in the Public Service Company Law to employ such number of men upon any of its trains as in the judgment of the commission is requisite for the safe and efficient operation thereof and any such order shall be enforceable and reviewable in the same manner as prescribed by such Public Service Company Law and the amendments thereto in respect to orders of the commission made thereunder and all acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed including the act of June nineteenth one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws ten hundred and fifty-three) entitled "An act to promote the safety of travelers and employees upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend secton 1, page 2, by adding at the end thereof the following "Provided howeyer That no reduction shall be made by any railroad corporation because of the passage of this act in any train crew as constituted by law prior to the passage of this act without the authorization of the Public Service Commission as provided in this act"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I hope that you will add no amendment to this bill at this time. Let us put the bill through and at the finish pass it or defeat it. Don't delay, but let us get at the real bottom of this bill, and I repeat, either pass it or defeat it at the proper time.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state in offering this amendment I have simply made it at the request of the railroad organizations. In the act, as it is now, the burden of proof is laid over to the employe. The amendment, as offered to you, means simply this: That, if the railroad companies desire to reduce the force they can take their case before the commission and have the commission so decide and they will give the railroad company permission to reduce the force. I think in fairness, if any part of this act should be approved, the company can better afford to go before the commission than to lay off that employe, to lie idle, for two or three months before the case can be heard before the commission. As we understand it now, we realize that the commission at this time has a great deal of work and the employe, with the high cost of living, cannot very well wait two or three months before this case could come up before the commission. I trust that you will insert this amendment, in all fairness to the employe. If there is any justification in the repeal of this act in the reducing of the crew, I say to you, the burden of proof should go on the party who can better afford it. We are complaining about the railroads; that it is costing the railroad companies four and one-half million dollars under the present act. I say to you that if the public would only know how much money has been and is being used in lobbying for this bill; if that were saved, they could reduce the freight rates just as well as not and it would not be necessary to take it out of the hide of the fellow who works on these trains. We know of the money that is being used to get legislation of this kind through this body. Now, gentlemen of the House, we are only asking in all fairness and we are fair and will say to you that the burden of proof should be on the other side. If it is fair for one, it is fair for the other. I trust that this amendment will be allowed to go into the bill.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I sincerely trust that this amendment will not prevail and for a logical reason. In the first place, the purpose of the amendment is to make the employer show cause why he should discharge his employe. There is not another employer in the State that has that rule applicable to him. There is no other corporation or large concern in the State of Pennsylvania that has any such rule. Strange to say, this very bill itself gives the employe a chance which they never have had before, namely, to insist that the trains be manned properly. I will show you another inequality: The gentleman from Lackawanna says, "put the burden on the employer to show that the man should be discharged as a full crew man." Why, don't you see, in practical operation, what happens? If the train has too many men on it and they have to wait until the Public Service Commission acts upon it, they are not going to wait that way. They will take off the whole train crew—engineer, fireman, conductor, and everybody else. Therefore, if you want to give the laboring man a square deal, don't have the engineer and fireman and conductor and the other members of the crew, including the two brakemen and flagmen, discharged, but stand for it as it is, then the Public Service Commission will be in a position to say that the train ought to run and that you ought to have on it a certain number of men; but if this amendment prevails, it means the discharge of an entire train crew and I feel that that would be unfair.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was first approved and signed it was for the safety of the general public. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company and all companies in Pennsylvania had to accept the acts of Assembly passed for the protection of the public and for the safety of the people. All appliances that have been necessary for the safety of the employe and the people themselves; they had to be framed by act of Assembly in Pennsylvania. Air brakes were forced upon the railway companies, and while they did not want, at first, to put these things in, they had to do so by act of the Legislature. They put in the air brakes and the coupler and other things that provided for the safety of the public and the employe. The Full Crew bill was passed in the Legislature several years ago, for the safety of the people in general, and for the employe. This proposed amendment puts the burden upon the employer to show cause why this full crew is not necessary. Why should not the employer of the men come forward and say so? If we feel that the railroad corporations to-day should do certain things for our safety, why should we not put the burden on them and show cause why this amendment is necessary? If the railroad is put in that position, we are meeting them half way and I ask you, in all fairness when we are coming half way, as we are to-day meeting the railroad corporations half way by submitting to them this amendment, why should this amendment not be passed?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. James A. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, do I understand that when you introduced Bill No. 834, it provided that school authorities must show good and sufficient reasons before they can abolish positions held by teachers?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, no, sir; that bill is in the nature of a civil service bill. The teachers are employes of the public and for a nulber of years we have had a law upon our statute books, having been passed in 1906, providing for a civil service rule for all those who are employed as teachers. The teachers bill you refer to is a civil service proposition.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, Abraham Lincoln once said that, "Capital is the fruit of labor and therefore labor deserves much the higher consideration." I say that labor, in this case, deserves much the higher consideration. The gentleman from Philadelphia's argument is that it is costing the railroad companies too much to man their trains. Our argument is that it is not so. This Legislature is not in a position to say or to ascertain which was right or wrong, because when we come to put it before the Public Service Commission, then only can we determine that, and I want to put it before the Public Service Commission and let those men who man the trains tell the Public Service Commission what the facts are so that the Commission may decide. That is all there is to the amendment. We are going fifty-fifty playing with the same weapon.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I think all the members of the House understand that the issue was clearly formed in the bill as originally introduced in the Senate. I feel, regardless of what our vote should be on this bill, that the issue should be voted on in that form. As members we probably have been interviewed more on this bill and on this question than on any other in this Assembly. Delegations have visited us in our homes; we have received letters from the railroads and from the employes. We have the views of our constituents as introduced in the Senate. It is too late now for us to ascertain what their views may be as to this amendment. I admit when the amendment was before us last week it was a difficult question to decide for those who are opposed to or are supporting the repeal of this law, and I admit that there is considerable confusion in the minds of many members as to just what the amendment means. I ask the House that the issue be met as it was formed in the Senate and that we vote the amendment down regardless of how we vote on the final passage of the bill.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, in order that my remarks may not be misunderstood, I will state that I am against this repealer whether the amendment carries or not. I believe that this amendment should receive favorable consideration from this body which would change any procedure and shift the burden of proof from where it now stands on the repealer where it stands and where it belongs. The companies have seen fit to assert the fact of non-necessity, and of all the rules of procedure, whether civil, legal or social, the one asserting a fact is always called upon to prove that fact. If you accuse one guilty of crime you have to prove that the crime is committed. If you issue an order to oust a tenant you have to show cause why you should oust that man. Why, in this case, should we ask the men who are legally in their positions, yet by the will or whim of an individual or of the company that they be put out of their positions before there shall be consideration for both the employe and the employer. It is admitted that some of these men are necessary; no matter how few or how many they say, "Some are necessary." If we assume that the repealer now before us is a measure of the companies, I think that is a better assumption at that, and they practically admit in that bill that we have under supervision that the question of necessity or non-necessity cannot and should not be left to their arbitrary control. They say it is advisable to supervise us; that we might make a mistake. With that in mind that these men are legally in their position by reason of an act of Assembly with the intimation that some are necessary and the thought that they be necessary. I say, assuming that this repealer is an act of the companies and that the supervision is arbitrary, if not necessary, agreeing that they may be making a mistake, all that is necessary is that we have the fact proved, that some of these men are necessary men. Is it fair that they should be without work while they have no other companies to get back in? Is it fair to these men who are necessary to the public who need their protection and have the right of the protection of the men whom they admit are necessary, to drive them out of a position for a year or for six months or for a day? In all fairness to these men who are necessary to the public and who have a right to safeguard the public I think we should pass this amendment.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Whitehouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Schuylkill has laid great stress upon the word "necessity", and "necessary". Will he tell us, for the benefit of the House, how many men there are in a full crew and what their vocations are?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I am not a railroad man, but I understand that a full crew is composed of five men, but because of an increase in the number of cars on a train under the terms of the full crew bill the number was increased.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Does the gentleman know how many cars are necessary for an increase?

Mr. WHITEHOUUSE. My information is, twenty-nine freight cars is a regular train. There are five men for twenty-nine cars, as I understand it.

Mr. LAFFERTY. What are their functions?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. I am not a railroad man and I will refer the gentleman to the representative from Lackawanna.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir. What is the question?

Mr.. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman, what are the functions of the five men who compose a crew on a train?—what they were prior to this act?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, we are discussing an amendment that is before the House and if the gentleman will desist until that is considered we will get up to that later. At present we are arguing upon the amendment.

Mr. LAFFERTY. I have heard this bill discussed so often, and while I am not burdened with intelligence, I have the confidence of the members here, and I understand that the number for a full crew was six under the provisions as named before, in which the functions were that of the engineer, who had his functions; the fireman, who had his, and the brakemen had theirs and the flagman had his, and so on. As I understand him this repeal of the full crew act to-day is something that is not necessary. I ask Mr. Fowler to explain the necessity of it and to explain to the House what the necessity is, when you have air brakes for the extra men?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I would rather refer the gentleman to the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mangan permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MANGAN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. LAFFERTY. I want to know as to the functions of these men, comprising the engineer, firemen, two brakemen, flagmen and conductor.

Mr. MANGAN. Mr. Speaker, what does the gentleman mean by "their functions?"

Mr. LAFFERTY. What is required of them; what is their duty?

Mr. MANGAN. The conductor is the man who is in charge of the train; the flagman brakes the rear end of the train and acts as flagman; two men are brakemen, and one man takes charge of the train when it comes to a stop.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Are there to be two more brakemen on a train of more than twenty-nine car with the air brakes, working as they do, or even if they broke, then what would be the necessity of the extra men; would there be a necessity for ten more brakemen on a long train?

Mr. MANGAN. You ask about ten more brakemen?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANGAN. They would not have that many.

Mr. LAFFERTY. That is exactly my point. This repeal is absolutely justified because if they only put one extra man on every car there would be an extra man on every car if the air brakes do not work.

Mr. MANGAN. I don't believe you understand what an extra man is.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Understand it? Of course I do.

Mr. MANGAN. In all my service on the railroad, which is twenty-five years, we have had six regular men on the train: The engineman, fireman, conductor, two brakemen and the flagman, and the only time when there was another man put on the train was when there was an extra man put on when the regular man was laid off.

Mr. LAFFERTY. When I say extra, an extra man, I mean one in addition.

Mr. FOWLER. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lafferty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. FOWLER. Do you think trains are overmanned?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Well, in this sense—

Mr. FOWLER. I would like yes or no.

Mr. LAFFERTY. I understand that the air brakes—

Mr. FOWLER. That is not the answer; I want to know are they overmanned?

Mr. LAFFERTY. They are either overmanned or they are not overmanned. In fact, they have not enough men if the air brakes don't work.

Mr. FOWLER. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. Are you in favor of this amendment, as a disinterested party, and I would like to have you just answer that, as this amendment comes up to you?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANGAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr Lafferty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. MANGAN. I desire to ask the gentleman what work he has done on the railroad and if he ever knew of a hose company serving the railroad asking questions about the air?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANGAN. Did you ever go down to see the duties required by a railroad man and what he had to perform?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Yes, sir.

Mr. MANGAN. Did you see one standing idly by when the other was working, frequently?

Mr. LAFFERTY. Frequently.

Mr. MANGAN. I would like to get a job on that railroad. I did not desire to speak on this amendment to-day for the reason that last week I brought about this trouble and confusion that has been referred to to-day by my colleague, Mr. Dithrich. After going over the various list of bills in the various states, going over it with the various railroad men, they were willing and fair enough to allow that amendment placed in this bill providing it passed, but I still stand opposed to passing the bill. I want to put you right, and I as a railroad man believe that the man or company or corporation who employs a man, if it comes before the Public Service Commission, should be the man who brings the proof that there is an unnecessary man upon that train. It is not for the man, the employe, to say, "Take me off; I am not wanted." It is for the company to say to the Public Service Commission, "There is no necessity for that man upon this train, or upon these trains." Personally, I know that there is not an unnecessary man upon any train that runs over any railroad in this Commonwealth. While that law prevails in other states, they do not have the high mountains to climb or the hills and grades to contend with. I am going to wait until the bill comes before you then I will endeavor to explain the merits of the Full Crew Bill to you and I hope that you will vote for the amendment on the Full Crew Bill to-day.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I think the question has been raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia in reference to the cost of the Full Crew Bill to the company. I want to say just one word in explanation of that. I understand that at a certain hearing not so very long ago before a Legislative body, the railroad company claimed that there were approximately 1500 people affected by the repeal of the Full Crew Bill, if it passed. It was stated that if the Full Crew Bill were repealed, seventy per cent. who would be affected wouud have to be put back on the train; to the effect that seventy per cent. of the 1500 men which were included in this Full Crew measure would have to be reinstated, and that would leave 500 people affected by this bill in the State of Pennsylvania at a salary of $1,500 a year. I want to submit to you gentlemen what effect that would have on the profits of any one particular railroad company in the State of Pennsylvania? Assuming that there are six railroad companies in Pennsylvania and only 500 persons affected by this bill, would it affect the stock of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company? Would it affect the freight rates or the passenger rates,—just that small amount? I submit to you that the argument they have advanced against this bill is simply the fact that the railroad labor organizations have succeeded in putting this bill on the statute books and the railroad companies have since that time tried to get it off the statute books of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I ask you in all fairness to vote for this amendment.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill as I have been informed, applies to 2300 full crew men. The cost to the railroad company of these 2300 men in this State is $4,500,000 per year. You and I do not want to see freight rates increased. My folks at home have written to me to the end that freight rates shall not be increased. There is nothing in this bill which could save the engineer and fireman from being discharged through taking off the entire train, and that seems to be the natural way to help to put down expenses. Some of us who come from the eastern end of the State know that only a few weeks ago the Pennsylvania Railroad took off one of its express trains that formerly left Philadelphia at 8:40 o'clock in the morning, in order to reduce expense. That is a pretty good example of the expense principle involved in the Full Crew Bill. The amendment cannot control in one case where any employer is asked to show cause why he should discharge an employe. I submit to you, that this bill will not aid the whole crew; it may aid 2300 men who are directly in service under the Full Crew Act, but it will not aid thousands of other men who are employed on the trains in this State.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Fowler and Mr. Mangan, and were as follows:

BILLS DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the twenty-eighth has been fixed as the time for final adjournment, it seems to me that all House bills on the first and second reading calendars are positively lost. I have only one bill on the second reading calendar. It seems to me, therefore, to help get our work through that all House bills on the first and second reading calendars should be dropped, with the exception of appropriation bills. I have no particular interest in so doing, and I would suggest that some member who has more bills on these calendars make such a motion to have them dropped. In so doing I trust that the other members of the House will understand that I have no desire to stand in the way of their bills, but it does seem to me impossible for any bills, House bills, on the first and second reading calendars, to pass and become laws, and so for that reason I make this motion to drop these bills from the calendar, not because I am particularly opposed to any bill on the calendar.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 22, by striking out "as" and inserting in lieu thereof "or".

Mr. WETTACH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, may I say a word in explanation of this bill. These bills were introduced in the Senate, immediately acted upon and after their passage messaged to the House. The Committee on City Plans, of Pittsburgh, which is an entirely non-political, non-factional organization, prepared these bills. Mr. George M. B. Baird, of the University of Pittsburgh, and Mr. James R. Miller, of Pittsburgh, Chairman of the Legislative Committee on City Plans, sponsored the bills which were introduced. They were referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations. We asked the Chairman to call a meeting, but he refused to call a meeting fearing that if his committee were brought together it would be necessary to act upon the second-class city non-partisan repealers. When he was asked to call a meeting of his committee for the purpose of reporting these bills out upon which everybody was agreed, he refused. No other course was open but to move to suspend the rule and discharge this committee from further consideration of these bills.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

THE SPEAKER, MR. SAMUEL A. WHITAKER, IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1371, (Senate Bill No. 83), File Folio 1661, on page 30 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No 1371, (Senate Bill No. 83), entitled:

An Act to amend sections three and four of the act approved the twenty-second day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and ninety-seven) entitled "An act creating a Division of Documents defining its powers and duties regulating the number of documents to be printed bound and the requisition distrubition and sale of the public documents of this Commonwealth providing penalties for the violation of this act and repealing certain acts"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, this is a Senate bill which refers to the organization of the Bureau of Documents. I ask your consideration of the peculiar language of the bill as shown in section 4. I can readily understand how during the time of the war it was necessary both in Congress and in State Legislatures to pass bills that gave the heads of Departments much latitude, but now that we are getting back to normal times, I do not think the language of section 4 is the kind of language that ought to be in a statute of this kind.

I will read the section.

"Section 4 The Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding shall appoint in said Division of Documents one chief clerk who shall receive an annual salary of eighteen hundred dollars two shipping clerks three mailing clerks and one stenographer and clerk each of whom shall receive an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars and one messenger who shall also act as wrapper and packer and who shall receive an annual salary of twelve hundred dollars When necessary additional employes shall be assigned to the Division of Documents by the Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding" is hereby amended to read as follows"

This is an illustration of what seems to me to be careless lawmaking. Some limit ought to be fixed and it ought not to be at the option of the head of any department, the head of any minor department such as this probably is. He may appoint as many stenographers and messengers as he pleases without any limit whatever upon the cost. This is the kind of legislation that will bring us into disrepute and therefore I want to call the attention of the members of the House to it.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will take the bill which he has criticized and compare it with the General Appropriation Bill, he will find that the head of that department is limited in his expenses.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia a question? Suppose it passes beyond the limit of the General Appropriation Bill, is that a basis for a deficiency such as we have had here.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, that was due not to the condition of the appropriation at the time they were passed but because those appropriations were insufficient because of the result of the high cost of labor in the last two years.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman, is there any reason in proper lawmaking why a limit should not be fixed?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, this House has determined again and again that it is not necessary at times to go into that subject. I want to call your attention to the Banking Deparment and the Highway Department where that has been the law for some years and has been sustained by the Supreme Court.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, is there any reason which applies to the Division of Documents? Why is the work of the Division of Documents of such a nature that it is subject to these variations?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, it may not be subject to any variations, but under the General Appropriation Bill this Division receives a certain appropriation and the chief of the Division and his chief, the Secretary of Internal Affairs, cannot exceed that amount.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, then there is no reason for that in this Department.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, there is a limit fixed in the General Appropriation Bill, and Mr. Speaker, this is exactly the same kind of business that is done by any large corporation throughout the State. They determine certain amounts for salaries in a certain department and then leave the head of the department to take care of the salary. I do not see any difference in this lawmaking.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, but your Board of Directors meets each month and they exercise supervision. We meet only once in two years, consequently when we meet we must anticipate the needs for those two years in any sort of legislation.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the sky is not the limit, the limit is the appropriation to that department.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken

Mr. JEREMIAH J. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Spaker, I move that House Bill No. 1452, (Senate Bill No. 835), File Folio 2131, on page 37 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1452, (Senate Bill No. 835), entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws page forty-six) entitled "An act fixing the number and salaries of clerks and other employes in the Auditor General's Department"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, reading of this bill will convey at first the thought that it is a salary raiser, and for this reason I desire to have spread upon the records of the House a letter from the Auditor General elect, addressed to Joseph C. Marcus, Chairman of the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform, dated April 12, 1921. The letter reads as follows:

"My dear Mr. Marcus: In connection with Senate Bill No. 835, white File Folio 2131, entitled:

"An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws page forty-six) entitled "An act fixing the number and salaries of clerks and other employes in the Auditor General's Department," which is now before your committee I have to say that the effect of the bill if passed will be to repeal that section of the act of 1913 which provided for a Deputy Auditor General and an Assistant Deputy and is a part of my proposed plan of re-organization in the Auditor General's Department In fact the provisions and new designations made in the bill are in my judgment the most important and essential in the re-organization scheme I am quite sure that competent men cannot be had to do the work which is comprehended under the new designations without paying proper compensation

"The bill provides that the salary for the Revenue Deputy shall be $7,500.00 (The Revenue Deputy, under the direction of the Auditor General, shall have charge of the settlement and collection of all revenues raised through the office of the Auditor General and county officers designated by Acts of Assembly as agents of the Auditor General, and which aggregate between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 per annum); for the Disbursing Deputy, shall be $7,500.00 (The Disbursing Deputy, under the direction of the Auditor General, shall have charge and supervision of the auditing of all disbursements of the several departments of the Commonwealth, aggregating approximately $60,000,000 per annum); for the Assistant Deputy shall be $6,000.00 (The Assistant Deputy under the direction of the Auditor General, shall have charge of all traveling auditors, investigators and supervision of the auditing of the accounts of all institutions receiving State aid), or a total of $21,000.00.

"I am sure that if your Committee will give the matter careful consideration and investigation, they will at once see that this is not an increase in the expense of the Department, but is as a matter of fact a saving. The three salaries above designated, you will see, amount to $21,000.00. The men who will handle the general business of the several departments as above indicated will supersede and take the place of a number of officers and employes as follows: A Deputy Auditor General, now paid $5,500.00; an Assistant Deputy Auditor General, $4,500.00; a Special Deputy Auditor General, $12,000.00; a Special Deputy Auditor General, $4,500.00; a Chief Investigator $4,800.00; a Special Investigator $5,000.00, and a Special Stenographer, $2,300.00; total now being paid the above, $38,800.00.

"I would also add here that in addition to the salaries above enumerated for the Special men, several of them receive expenses which cover a very considerable sum, but which will all be entirely elimininated. By deducting from the total of $38,800.00 the above first mentioned salaries amounting to $21,000.00, you will at once see that the net result is a saving to the Commonwealth of $17,800.00 a year, in addition to the several items of expenses of the above referred to special investigators. I might also add that you will also ascertain upon inquiry of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee that the Auditor General's Department will receive a considerable less appropriation for the two ensuing years than was appropriated for the same purpose for the past two legislative years.

"I am putting the matter in this shape so that you may have all the facts before you and your committee, when you come to the consideration of the bill. If there is any additional information I can give you, I shall be only too pleased to do so upon request. Yours very truly, S. S. Lewis, Auditor General-elect."

Gentlemen of the House, this is a bill for the reorganization of the Department of the Auditor General. By it, according to the terms of the letter which I just read, $17,800.00 will be saved the State of Pennsylvania each year. This, gentlemen, is a new kind of a visitor, and I ask that the bill have your unanimous support.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Costitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Presdent: In opposing this bill I do so from a sense of supreme duty. Two years ago, in this Chamber, with joy in my heart, I voted for and heard announced the ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment. The bells of Harrisburg rang out the glad tidings proclaiming that Pennsylvania had joined her sister States in placing Prohibition in the Federal Constitution. Congress acted promptly and an efficient Enforcement Act was passed. The Friends of Temperance looked for similar legislation by the States. New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts and many other States have splendid Enforcement Acts. New Jersey having passed theirs over the Governor's veto, but we in Pennsylvania seem doomed to bitter disappontment.

The Martin Bill, a fair Enforcement Measure was defeated in the House, lacking only five votes to put it over. The Woner Bill was introduced and speedily passed. It is now before us. Seemingly fair in some of its features, it deceived a few of the friends of Prohibition and received their endorsement. But it has not and can not deceive the veterans in this age long fight.

I might indulge in catchy sarcasm, but will only say that this bill would be characterized by Chas. Dickens as a fine example of "How not to do it." I declare it to be a bill reductio ad Absurdum; yes even worse, it is a fraud, a delusion and a snare.

For years we have prayed for, sung for and fought for a Saloonless Nation. Almighty God answered our prayers and in his mysterious way, through the medium of a merciless World War granted our petition. The licensed saloon can be no longer continued. It is sacrilegious to even think of such a thing.

A saloon is a evil thing, a horrible law defying, crime breeding institution. No law can purify it. No law can control it. This proposed Act would attempt to cleanse it and keep it within bounds. A law abiding saloon is an impossibility.

The old Brooks law is conceded to be the best licensing act ever put upon the statute books, but that is and has been violated daily. Temperance workers have, for years striven to punish violators and close saloons. They have seldom succeeded.

The Lily White Saloons, contemplated in this bill, will not differ in the management, cunning and deep deception, from their predecessors. I predict that they will evade supervisors, trick and deceive the officers of the law in the future as in the past, they will increase, if possible, their old time criminality by aiding and abetting bootlegging. They will be safe havens for bootleggers—underground stations from which these law violators can more securely work, and when Woner Bill saloons multiply, Pennsylvania will become a bootleggers' paradise. The mahogany bar, the long onyx counter, with its brass foot rail the polished mirrors, the frosted glass windows, will all come back.

A member of the House, whose word I cannot doubt, told me a few days ago that he knew of a contract for plumbing alone that involves $11,000.00 for a saloon, if this bill becomes a law. No it will not do.

Legislate it, inspect it, supervise as yau will
The blight of the old saloon will hang round it still.

We cannot have a Saloonless State or a Saloonless Nation if we pass this bill, for this bill is a saloon creator, a saloon preserver and a saloon defender. But I hear some say this bill is fair on its face, you must fight violators of any enforcement act, why not this? I answer, we must judge the future by the past. We have fought vainly against law protected saloons for many years and have failed.

Then we were forced to throw the election of Judges into politics. We have seen the piteous spectacle of men elected to the Bench, not because they were learned in the law, not because they possessed a judicial temperament, but solely because they were known to be wet or dry. This bill will continue that humiliating condition and extend it to mayors, district attorneys and to constables for we will never, no never give up the fight for Prohibition and for a Saloonless Nation.

In Pennsylvania to-day there are twenty-six saloonless counties. What a struggle it has cost the allied forces of temperance to secure this. And now are we to lose all this, are we to dot all of these counties with saloons? We will if we pass this bill. Then the saloon will be planted and entrenched in every county in the State. Thus established it will begin to fight for freedom from restrictions and the political battle will be fiercer than ever for dry Congressmen, a dry Governor and dry members of the Legislature. We will be compelled to this action because this bill defines the liquors that may be sold in saloons to the standards set by Act of Congress. And already a bill has been introduced in Congress to amend the Volstead Act and permit the sale of wines and beer. On to Washington is the cry of the saloons, and on to Washington is the response by the Temperance forces.

When the Martin Bill fell in the House, I introduced in the Senate an enforcement bill and a Brooks Law repealer. I did this as a challenge and to raise a beacon of hope to members of the House. This Bill is on our calendar with two readings to its credit. Since all have agreed that an enforcement act must be passed at this session it is clear that, had this Woner Bill been defeated, Senate Bill No. 642 could and would have been passed. We only needed five votes in addition to the faithful 99 to put it over and I am sure that we had 30 votes in the Senate. But our forces were divided. Some honest, well meaning, but timid leaders were afraid that all would fail, that this Bill was better than nothing, and so they passed the Woner Bill. Some of the dry House members said to me "we thought we would put the responsibility where it belongs," but did they? Will we, if we vote for this bill? Let us read Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwalth of Pennsylvania in Geeral Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same. We are responsible and we will be so held by our constituents.

Members of the House, whom I asked if they had any doubts about the result of this bill, invariably answered "Yes, we have some doubts." Many members of this Senate have doubts. Then I ask you, I urge you to give the Constitution, the Nation, the State, the Home, the Church, the benefit of your doubts. Do not give it to the saloon. Do not give that doubt to the passage of this bill, for this bill is a saloon creator, a saloon preserver and a saloon defender.

Having been advised by eminent legal counsel, I hold this proposed act to be clearly unconstitutional because it violates Article III, Sec. 6 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, in that it proposes to enact and make a part of a statute of Pennsylvania, an Act of Congress by reference only in general language to said Act of Congress. This bill proposes that the Pennsylvania Law conform as to the alcoholic content, to the Act of Congress, without enacting into the statute of Pennsylvania what that alcoholic content is. This same question has been decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the cases of Commonwealth vs. Dougherty and Commonwealth vs. Kephart.

The viciousness of this Woner Bill lies in the fact that it will not only enact into the Law of Pennsylvania, or attempt to do so, the standard at present existing of alcoholic content in vinous, spirituous, malt and brewed liquor, set up by Act of Congress, but it changes the standard whenever the Congress of the United States says. The State of Pennsylvania is thus delegating to the Congress at Washington the right and the power to legislate for the State of Pennsylvania without consulting its people or its Legislature and in a matter that is peculiarly within the province of the Police power of the State. It has been decided by our Supreme Court, over and over again, that the Legislature has no power to delegate its authority to any individual, association, commission or other body, and this proposed act is in the teeth of the many decisions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Again, I challenge, that all this enacting of the Woner Bill is unnecessary and void, because the thing which is proposed to be accomplished by this bill, to wit: the authorzing of license for the sale of beverages not prohibited by the United States Law, is now permitted unde the Brooks Law as set forth in an opinion of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania in a recent case from Fayette County.

Now let me show you the snake in this bill, and it is something of a joker, although I believe not so intended.

The first section of this bill, wherein it amends Section I of the so called Brooks High License Law, has this peculiar language: "that the phrase vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquor, the phrase spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquor, and the word liquor, as used in this act, shall mean vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquor fit for beverage puposes," is not to be found anywhere in the Brooks High License Law. The Books High License Law at present forbids, without license, the sale of vinous, spirituous, malt and brewed liquor of every kind and character and every admixture thereof, except for scientific, mechanical and medicinal purposes. It prohibits such liquors whether they are for beverage purposes or not. By the language here introduced an innovation is made, the effect of which will be to permit the sale of all kinds of alcoholic admixtures, whenever some other substances may be added for the purpose of eaabling it to be said that the substance sold is a medicine or used for medicinal or other purposes. There is in this State and has been since the passage of the so called Volstead Act large sales of certain alleged medicines which consist entirely of whiskey or wine, with just enough medicine placed therein to enable the manufacturer to "get by" the Government regulations. These substances such as Jamaica Ginger, Horky Vino and many others cannot now be sold under the Brooks Law. Enact this amendment, this Woner Bill and you flood the State with these subterfuges and spread intoxication State wide, and do it through legalized saloons.

Now let me appeal to those who dislike to abandon party regularity—who go along because this is a party measure. Alas that it is so sponsored and backed that the Republican party is absolutely responsible for it. Let me borrow a phrase from an editorial writer, which I lately read and transposing some words say that "In this the Republican Organization is digging a pit and it is the duty of every true Republican to save our party from falling into the pit which they have digged." So sure as we pass this bill, when it gets to working and the people realize the monster that it is, just so sure will the people hold us to a strict account for our action, and right here let me raise the danger signal, let me bid you beware. Do not forget that there is a new force in politics. The temperance forces have a new ally whom the liquor forces seem to have forgotten. The newly enfranchised women of Pennsylvania are 90% for Prohibition. None have suffered so terribly from the baleful influence of the saloon as they. The saloon has destroyed those nearest and dearest to thousands of them. It has not only taken their loved ones but has taken their homes. It has wrecked their fondest hopes and shatterd their dearest ambitions. Think you that they will condone our action if we pass this bill?

And finally when the gavel falls for the last time on this session, when hand clasps are over and good byes have been said and we return to our homes, then we will meet those who sent us here. And when the men and women whose souls have been touched, whose homes are threatened and business men who see in the saloon a danger to efficiency—when they say to us, what have you done to enforce Prohibition and we say to them, we have given you a law that will enforce it through strictly regulated licensed saloons, they will say to us "we are disappointed, we can no longer trust your party. We asked you for bread and you have given us a stone."

Mr. BARR. I did not intend to say anything on this bill, but the veteran Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, has given me an opportunity to explain to my constituents why I do not intend to support this bill. In Pittsburgh some months ago, the Executive of this State, the Honorable William C. Sproul, promised over one thousand women that he intended to repeal the Brooks Act, and that he intended to write into the statute books an enforcement law that had teeth in it and that would spell the death of bootlegging in the State of Pennsylvania. The Senators who are here present can go into most any place where liquor has been sold and get whiskey, if they want it. You can go into restaurants and have it served to you in teacups and you can go elsewhere and get anything that you did before the license was taken away and the Volstead Act passed, or before the amendment was written into the Constitution. I understand, gentlemen, that it takes courage and a lot of nerve to stand in the face of sarcasm and to be laughed at and sneered at, either in this body or elsewhere, when a man is standing for law and order, and I also realize that when the Federal amendment was brought here in the former session of the Senate, when this Senate was asked to be the forty-fifth state of the union, the last one of the forty-eight states of the union to approve it, it was not a question of whether or not Pennsylvania would approve it, it was a question of whether or not Pennsylvania would transfer the whiskey insurrection from the banks of the Chartiers Creek to the banks of the Susquehanna. That is what it meant. It did not make any difference whether Pennsylvania approved it or not, and so in the enforcement of this act, it is my opinion, honestly and earnestly expressed, that the people of the State of Pennsylvania are being cheated and that the whiskey interests have had much to say on this bill. Now, gentlemen, of the Senate, I want to say one word in support of the veteran Senator from Blair, a man who over a period of years has been absolutely consistent in the House and in the Senate, and he has raised for you and for me and for every other decent Republican, and I claim to be that, the danger signal that is confronting the next governor and every other officer that is to be elected. The women of the state of Pennsylvania, I charge from the floor of this Senate, have been cheated in the legislation that has not been brought to the floor of this Senate, and now the administration is going to cheat them again, by this bill. I tell you, gentlemen, there will be a brighter dawning of a better day in the Republican party of the state, or else I mistake the womanhood of the state of Pennsylvania. When they come into their own they are coming with a cause, they will be able to defend. They have been the foundation of our state, and church and they will be the new foundation of the future Republican party of Pennsylvania, or I miss my guess. I am mighty glad that the veteran Senator from Blair attacked this bill in the manner that he did, in the cold, solid logic that he has presented it to us because it gave me an opportunity to explain my vote to one of the best constituencies that there is in the state, and I intend to vote "No" for my part, because I feel that the bill is not only a cheat but is a snare and a delusion, and is clothing the saloon with respectability and it ought to and will be put out of business.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, in the district which I have the honor to respresent here the provisions of the Volstead Act are so openly and persistently violated that it has become a scandal. The Federal authorities are doing little or nothing to enforce the provisions of that act. Mr. President, I shall vote for this bill because it places in the hands of the local authorities the weapon that they need to enforce the provisions of the Volstead Act, and for no other reason. I am opposed to the license system perpetuated by this act. If I could divide those two things in the act, and vote for the one and against the other I should like to do so, but since that is impossible, and I must vote for both or neither, I just wish to express on the record my reason for voting for this bill, which I do with great reluctance.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, I do not agree with my friend, Senator Barr, when he stands on the floor of this Senate and says that the women of this great State ever have been cheated here by the members of this Senate, on the floor or in committee. In the first place, I do not think any body has been cheated around here in my time, or in the time of my dead brother, who preceded me, and when I am through here this term it will be either thirty-four or thirty-six years that we have spent on the floor of this Senate. It is one thing to be sure of your ground, and talk common sense, and another to stand up here for newspafer notoriety. As much as I hate to say that about my friend, that is what it appears to me to be here this morning. I want to contradict him in another statement he made. I was approached coming from the House over here by a representative of one of the leading liquor interests in the State, who asked me to vote against this bill, saying that the liquor interest were not in favor of this bill, and I am going to vote for the bill, for the simple reason that my friend Senator Craig is going to vote for it, because it puts the power of the enforcement of prohibition in the hands of the local authorities. What is the use of a man who is big enough and influential enough to be elected to a seat in this Senate standing here and saying one thing, when the facts are on the opposite side. It is not fair.

Mr. J. S. MILLER. Mr. President, I am sorry that I must differ from the Senator fom Blair, Mr. Snyder, but I believe it is our duty to pass this bill to-day. It is the only measure that can become a law. We need some enforcement legislation, and we need it most seriously. There are a number of good features in this bill. The clauses providing for the punishment for the manufacturer and transportation of liquor are very good. It is very true that the license feature is very objectionable to many people; it is objectionable to the people of my district. I have had many requests to support the Martin bill, and I would have done it had it reached the Senate. There is no other bill, except the one before us, that can be made a law at this session, and it is my duty to vote for it for the good that is in it, with the hope that it will help and that this legislature, at its next session, can correct and amend the evil that is in this bill.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I was approached this morning by the liquor interests to vote against this bill. As this bill furnished the only machinery to enforce the Volstead Act, I am going to vote aye.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I intend to vote for this bill. I want to say to the members of this Senate that I have in one portion of my district, I think, have more bootleggers than another district in the state of Pennsylvania. We have, however, a large number of very eminent and respectable people too. I had recently occasion to send to the Mayor of Philadelphia a letter containing the names and addresses of some seventy-eight different places, known by the police and everybody in the locality to be open and notorious bootlegging institutions. His reply was "It is none of my business, it is the business of the Government. If the government cannot control this situation, I cannot," and he made no effort to control it. The condition now exists in this district. There is no law, and if there is a law there is no power to enforcement in the city of Philadelphia, at this time. I believe the Revenue Department has some eighteen or twenty agents going around among two millions of people trying to enforce the Volstead Act. It has resolved itself into a joke and I say to the men here who are interested in prohibition, your best support and allies here to-day will be those who are interested in the sale of whiskey, because those who are selling whiskey, are the bootleggers, and all the men who are violating the Volstead Act, do not want this act passed, because it is going to interfere with the best business they ever had.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I am a tyro in the legislative halls here, and perhaps I have not viewed things as many other members of this Senate and members of the House with respect to this bill. While I am opposed to it, and agree heartily with most of the matters suggested by the veteran Senator Mr. Snyder and Senator Barr also, yet, paradoxical as it may seem, I propose to vote for the bill. My district is heartily in sympathy with a strong enforcement act. We do not deem this a strong enforcement act, but it we want bread and cannot get a whole loaf, I still believe in taking a half loaf at least, so that I believe I will be voting according to the sentiment of my district when I support this bill, and my district, as I have said, is strongly in favor of prohibiion. I have made one fight after the other against these commercialized liquor traffic, and yet I feel that in this paticular bill everyone who is in favor of an enforcement act, every prohibitionist in this Senate, should vote for this bill at this time.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I am delighted with the prospects, for the first time that I am a member of this House, to be able to vote upon a measure and no matter on which side I cast my vote, I am bound to please both sides. Both the extreme drys are against this bill, and they tell me the wets are against the bill, and for that reason I am glad that I am able to vote either way and please both sides. Mr. President, I am also glad that for the first time for four sessions in this body I am able to agree with my colleague from Blair County on the liquor question. I shall cast my vote against this bill because it is not a solution of the problem. I do not favor a repeal of the Brooks High License Law, and I do not believe the drys who favor a repeal of the Brooks High License Law understand the situation. They tell you that the Federal Government has given us prohibition, which is not true. The Federal Government has only given us a restrant of the liquor traffic. It has not given us prohibition, it has simply reduced the liquor traffic to an alcoholic content of one-half of one quarter per cent., and that is not prohibition. That is only a restriction, and to repeal the Brooks High License law entirely would be to throw that one-half of one per cent. traffic unrestricted to the people, and I am in favor of restricting that one-half of one per cent. traffic. Furthermore, in view of the Volstead Act which has been passed we have no assurance how long the one-half of one per cent. will be the standard, and a future Congress can raise the per cent., and then if you have no restriction and safeguards in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania it would mean that three per cent. could be sold in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania unrestricted. It would mean that whatever Cogress allows to be the percentage of alcoholic content can be sold any time, Sundays and every other day, on election day, to minors and everybody, and for that reason I agree with su much of this bill which would preserve the Brooks High License Law, but it is too cumbersome. The only solution to this question would have been the bills I introduced at the opening of the session, that the Brooks High License Law and the wholesale ilcense law of this Commonwealth conform to the Constitution and laws of the United States government, and that, in my judgment is the only real solution of the liquor question in Pennsylvania.

I repeat, to amend the Brooks High License Law, to make it conform to the Constitution of the United States of America, and for that reason, because, in my judgment, this bill is neither fish nor fowl, neither horse nor alligator, I am also going to vote against it.

I want to join the Senator from Philadelphia in resenting the charge that the women of Pennsylvania have been cheated. I know that the fair-minded, the broad minded, and the liberal minded women of Pennsylvania feel that this legislature has done eminently well for the people of this Commonwealth, and I know that the republican women of my county are well satisfied with what has here been done, and it ill behooves a member of this body who has participated in the proceedings of this session, from the beginning to this very day, to get up and say that anybody has been cheated by this body, of which he himself is a member.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, I am sorry to say it, has charged me with making the statement that I did, with the idea of getting into the newspapers, and the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, charges me, by virtue of the fact of my being a member of this body, that therefore my statements are not true. I cannot quite see the logic, and I am going to give you the facts. Under date of April 23rd I received a letter from the president of the Central Pennsylvania Woman's Suffrage Association, Mrs. Mabel C. Jones, who sat there as the successor to her husband, as long as she was able to report the proceedings of the Senate and who to-day lies on a sick-bed and perhaps her death-bed. She wrote me this letter, and I know it all to be true:

Harrisburg, Pa., April 23, 1921.

Hon. C. M. Barr,
Senate of Pennsylvania,
Capitol, Harrisburg, Pa.

My dear Senator Barr: You will doubtless recall my speaking to you in February about Senate Bill 42. That is an equal guardianship bill putting father and mother on a perfect equality as regards the children.

The Central Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, a large and influential organization composed of men and women, sponsered this bill, and it was introduced in the Senate January 24th It was referred to the Judiciary General Committee and it has been in that committee ever since all efforts to get it out being unavailing. The manner in which it was smothered there is something that deserves wide publicity.

Another bill that was sponsered by the Central Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association is House Bill 188. Today no woman in Pennsylvania can mortgage any real estate standing in her name without her husband's signature. The husband, however, can mortgage any real estate standing in his name without his wife's knowledge or consent. Therefore it has happened many times that a wife, who by her work and economy helped to buy the home, found at her husband's death that it was mortgaged to almost its full value.

I know of no other state that has such unjust laws in this respect, but I do know absolutely that the great majority of the states have just legislation in this matter, placing the husband and wife on a perfect equality. This bill has been smothered in the House . There could hardly be two bills of more vital interest to the women of Pennsylvania than the two just mentioned.

Before election the candidates for our State Legislature were profuse in their promises as to what they would do for the women. I fail to see that they have done anything. Not only these two bills have been smothered, but other bills as well, in which women have a vital interest.

I know that you were unequivocally in favor of both of these bills, and I would like to ask if the Legislature is going to adjourn without giving recognition to the just demands of the women of Pennsylvania.

Very Truly,
MABEL CRONIS JONES.

Here is a bill called a bill against prostitution, being Senate Bill No. 765. It is a reform bill. There were fifteen women that came before the committee, and they were given the assurance that the bill would be given a square deal, and, I am informed, were given the assurance that the bill would be reported out. Where is the bill? The Senator from Philadelphia has charged me with coming to the floor in the defense of the womanhood of Pennsylvania, not only on this liquor bill, but on other bills, in order that I might get into the newspapers. I deny it, and I deny it with all my heart. I do not care anything about publicity, neither do I care whether I ever again come back to this Senate. It will not mean a single thing in my life. I have rendered the best service that I know how. I have given it with integrity and honor, and I have tried to treat every Senator with whom I have come in contact with the utmost courtesy and respect and if I have failed I am here now to offer an apology for any short coming. I have stood for what I deemed was right and if I come back here for forty sessions I would never change my attitude of standing up and fighting for what I believed is right. I think the charges of the Senator from Lehigh are unfair. The Mothers' Assistance Pension Fund Committee came here and asked for two millions and a quarter dollars. What did they get? One million two hundred thousand dollars. What did they get last session? Six hundred thousand dollars. They would not have given them enough if they had given them three millions in order to take care of the cases that otherwise will be sent into the institutions for orphans. Still the Senators say the women have not been cheated! In God's name, I say you cannot cheat the women more than by taking their babies away from them and sending them into institutions that are nothing more nor less than institutions, call them orphan asylums or what you will. Tell me, how can you cheat your women less? Instead of giving so much additional to the different departments of the State Government, and for the increases in salaries all the way through from the Governor down, why not have added money to the Mothers' Pension Fund. Tell me where you can cheat them worse than that.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, the answer to the charge of Senator Barr that the women have been cheated, his second talk, is no answer whatever. What right has he got except as to one vote, to say how much they shall have for this bill, or how much for the other bill? Whether one bill shall come out of committee, or whether it shall not? It is a question of judgment on the part of the men in committee, as well as on the floor as to what is right and as to what is wrong, and you cannot in all fairness say because a bill did not come out, those who are interested in the bill were cheated. How does he know how many were against the bill, and the reason why it did not come out? I suppose I have had upwards of one hundred bills this session referred to this committee. There is not a single bill here now, nor has there been for the last ten or fifteen days, everything I had was reported on the floor of this Senate, to be given a fair opportunity to be either passed or whipped, one way or the other. His answer to the charge that the women have been cheated, or anybody else has been cheated, on the floor of this Senate, is no answer at all. Just because they did not get all the money that he thinks they should have had for this, that, or the other matter, does not say anybody has been cheated, and I resent it, as much as I hate to do it, because he has been my friend. I do not think he and I voted in opposite drections since he came here. I have been voting with him sometimes and sometimes I voted no, because I gave my word. I will not sit idly by and be charged with cheating the women of this State. I am one of the men who travelled through this Senate from one end to the other and through the House from one end to the other, to give the women the vote, when some of the men sitting by thought I should have advised the women, to go home and attend to their household duties. Now, gentlemen, I submit it is not fair, unless he knows something that has been done agaist the women in an unfair manner, to say that they have ever been cheated on this floor. It is not fair for him to say that the women, or anybody else in this State, have been cheated, certainly not in my time.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, it is certainly a ridiculous statement to make that everybody who has asked for a certain amount and who got less has been cheated. I want to submit that statement to the intelligent womanhood of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, whether in their opinion they were cheated because they asked for an appropriation for any particuar or specific purpose and got less than the sum asked for. If that is cheating every person in the Commonwealth has probably been cheated by this legislature. There have been appropriations and appropriations asked for without limit. They have to be pared down within the revenues of this Commonwealth. I introduced appropriation bills for all the charitable institutions within my district. None of them will get the amount I introduced the bill for. Can I go home and tell those people "You have been cheated here because they got less than they ask for? I want to submit to the intelligent womanhood of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania whether they think they have been cheaeted here becaus they got less than they ask for? Furthermore, if everybody is cheated who presents a bill to this Senate which does not pass, or which does not come out of committee, then again the whole Commonwealth has been cheated. Why, that is what we are here for, to separate the chaff from the wheat; to pass the bills that in our judgment are good and to defeat those that are bad; and Mr. President, he would argue, that every bill that is introduced in the committee must come out or the backers of the bill are cheated. I say it is silly, and I do not believe anything like that will appeal to any woman in this Commonwealth. The Senator knows that every time that he had a bill on this floor and I believed it was a good bill, believed in the principles of it, that I stood with him, and when I stood with him on the bills which I said to him were good and right, if his argument were sound, I cheated the man that opposed it. So that no matter what you do, every time you are for a bill or against a bill you cheat the other side.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this discussion. It does seem to me it is taking a very wide range, but I must resent the charge that the women of Pennsylvania have been cheated in the Mother's Assistance Fund. Years ago, in the wisdom of this legislature, they give the Mother's Assistance Fund six hundred thousand dollars. This year we all recognized the splendid work that the women of Pennsylvania have been doing with the money that was appropriated to them, and that appropriation, notwitstanding the scarcity of the funds in the Treasury of the State, were doubled, and they were given one million two hundred thousand dollars instead of six hundred thousand dollars of two years ago, when money was more plentiful. They were given the same amount from the counties of the State of Pennsylvania, which gives them in the aggregate in that fund two million four hundred thousand dollars. If I mistake not, I talked with the distinguished Senator relative to my interest in this Mother's Pension Fund, and I think that he said to me, that he thought that the

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to tell the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, that I never talked to him about the Mother's Pension Fund.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, is out of order, unless he desires to interrogate the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I did talk with the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Vickerman, relative to the amount of money that had been given to them, and Mr. Vickerman, the sponsor of the bill, said to me that he thought the Appropriations Committee and the Governor had been very liberal. I had call upon me last week, I think it was a committee of women, headed by Mrs. Miller, representing, I think, twenty associations of women of the State of Pennsylvania, with whom I went over the subject carefully and, while, of course, they were asking for more money, there was no protest on the part of any these assembled women in that committee that any cheating had been done, and, if I am not mistaken, I see on the floor of this Senate some of the ladies who were with that committee, and who subscribed to the fact that perhaps, under the circumstances, the best was done that was possible at this time. Mr. President, therefore I must resent with all the force at my command, the suggestion that I have been a party to cheating the women of Pennsylvania in any way, shape or form in any appropriation bills that came before the committee of which I have the honor to be the chairman.

Mr. CHRISTLEY. Mr. President, ———

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow, will state his point of order.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, the bill is under consideration and the discussion is not germane.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to state that in so far as any discussion may be germane to the consideration of the bill the point of order is not well taken, and the Senator from Butler, Mr. Christley, has not yet indicated the point upon which he desires to speak.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I withdraw the point of order for the present.

Mr. CHRISTLEY. Mr. President, I regret very much the condition that confronts us here and now with reference to this bill. Members of the Senate who have previously had records of being dry members propose to vote agaist this bill. I, representing a dry county, and one who always, in my humble way, have done what I could for dry legislation and sobriety in the home, feel that I might be misunderstood and that my vote on this bill might be misapprehended, and I shall explain why I propose to vote for this bill at this time. I have implicit faith in the Governor of Pennsylvania, I have implicit faith in the Attorney General of Pennsylvania. This, as I take it, is all that is before us with a view of meeting the bottlegging that has been going and is now going on in this great State. A vote against this bill, as I take it, would leave us in a deplorable condition for the next two years. We ought to have something to guide us, we ought to have some legislation to control the matter, and if this bill should fail where are we at? How is it going to be controlled in the coming two years? It seems to me it would be chaotic. So far as I am concerned, I propose to vote for this bill, whether it is all that we had hoped for or that we might desire, yet we are told that it is to meet the [illegible] of the case, and I am willing to try it out. I believe, I know, it is the best that is offered now, and I propose to vote for this bill.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. President, I have not, up to the present time, inflicted this Senate with any speech of mine, neither would I trespass upon your valuable time now, were it not for the fact that I expect to vote against this bill, and being a temperance man, and a Sunday School worker, I want to explain my reasons for so doing. I never could see at any time in my life that you could license anything that was wrong and by so doing make it right. I never have believed in the license system, and the way that this bill comes before us to-day, requires us to vote for the license or else get nothing, and I never up to the present time have voted for any license measure and by the help of God I never will. I have always believed that licenses were wrong. I believe the question before us to-day for consideration is a question that has been the most generally understood and most widely discussed of any question before the American people. Its provisions from every view point is thoroughly understood by everybody. We believed two years ago when we voted for the Federal amendment, we all had one object in view, and that was the doing away with the booze business forever. We enacted legislation from time to time, expecting that the thing had come to an end. One of the laws we passed was this. The people who sold whiskey came and said to us,, "we think it is unfair, inasmuch as business is likely to go out the first of July, to pay for a year's license, and we ask you for the privilege of paying by the month," and we passed that law, and, noble Senators, you did it with this object in view, that the thing would then be over. They came to us again with another proposition stating that they should be reimbursed and we appropriated fifty thousand dollars for the reimbursement of those who were put out of business, on account of the establishment of cantonments in this State. We did it for one purpose. You men again voted for it, and I do not propose to criticise you or this body in passing that law, but you had this object in view, and that was to do away with the booze business, and that has been our object and aim all the way through. One of the speakers at that time, one of the oldest members of the Senate said something like this, "Gentlemen, I am going to vote for the Federal amendment, not because I object to taking a glass of beer or whiskey once in a while, but because it has been written into the Constitution of the United States, and I am not going to be one who violates the provisions of the Constitution of the United States." I thought that was an admirable statement. And inasmuch as this has been written in our Constitution that grand old chart or compass by which we have passed over our activities upon the sea of life for over one hundred years, it seems to me that to now license the business is a direct slap at the provisions of our Constitution. I cannot see it in any other way and we have been hoping and working and praying that something might come by which we could show our loyalty to this Federal government just the same as other states have done. The spendid state of New York passed the enforcement act two weeks ago. Last Sunday it was reported through the papers that the result of the enforcement of prohibition in the city of New York had travelled over the world nearly, and was attracting attention of the state and nation and since then they have carried into effect the provisions of that law. Why cannot Pennsylvania do it? Also the state of New Jersey has given us an enforcement law passed over the head of their Governor, and are faithfully carrying it out. It seems to me as though when we see these things and then are asked to pass a license law to continue the sale of the thing I cannot see the consistency of it, and when the full effect of the passage of this law is brought out and I complain that "conditions are not what they ought to be" they turn to me and say, "Barnes, you voted for it." What can I say? Mr. President, it seems to me as I view the condition of things to-day, as I think about the seriousness of this question, I feel as though it is no time to tamper with it and give us this subterfuge. We have come to you waiting and waiting and hoping that something would be done. We have appealed to you in the name of our mothers, wives and sweethearts, the innocent sufferers of this awful traffic, and asked for a piece of bread, and this bill gives us a stone. We have come to you in the name of the fathers and sons and husbands of this Commonwealth of ours, the victims of the awful appetite for alcohol. We have asked for them a fish, but this bill gives them a serpent. We have come to you in the interest of the children, the boys and girls, the innocent unwilling sufferers from this awful traffic. We have asked for the little boys and girls an egg and this bill gives them a scorpion. I feel some how or other as I look off in the future of America—I wish I had the oratory of a Barr, or the reasoning of a Schantz or a Beidleman, that I might bring it before you as I see it, the picture of America to-day marching forward with banners flying, and Bands playing and attracting the attention of the whole world, and setting the pace for the whole world to follow, and I hear a voice saying to America, "you are the most wonderful nation upon all the face of the earth abounding in the blessings of nature and Providence," then I hear another voice, it seems to me almost the voice of an angel, which speaks to us as a Nation, saying, "Notwithstanding all of these blessings of Providence and Nature, Beware." This one thing you must remember. You have everything to lose and nothing to gain. I desire to say to you that the world to-day is looking upon America expecting of us to set an example before the world worthy of imitation. Are we equal to the occasion? One of the things which they expect of us is that as a nation we shall set such an example that when the foreigner looks to America and thinks of it as the land of the free and the home of the brave, the land of the beautiful flag, he can also look upon it as the land of sobriety and of the square deal, the land where righteousness reigns and where presidents, governors and other rulers reign in righteousness. Yes, a nation, whose God is the Lord. Mr. President, one way to bring about this happy condition is to vote for every measure and help along every cause which has for its object and aim the highest and noblest good to the greatest number of our people. I would be glad, indeed, to vote for this bill if I could see any provision contained therein that would to my mind make things better, but inasmuch as I understand that it has been passed in the House by the help of the liquor men, they will go back to their old haunts only to continue breaking the law and making bootlegging and kindred violations worse than at the present time. I would very much prefer, Mr. President, to let the matter stand as it now is, and to have whatever little benefit there now is in the present Brooks Law until two years hence, and then it may be that the complexion of things will have so changed that bills like the Martin bill, which went down to defeat and other bills of like nature which aim at real enforcement of the Federal amendment may, instead of being relegated to the back ground, be written upon the statute books of Pennsylvania, and its beneficient effects be felt in the preservation of the boys and girls of our grand old Commonwealth.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I did not intend to say anything on this bill this morning. I intend to vote for the bill and in doing so I certainly am sorry that this accusation has been made that we are cheating the womanhood of this state.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the subject under discussion is the bill.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Venango, Mr. Phipps, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, in voting for this bill as I have said, I am sorry that the accusation has been made, that we are cheating the womanhood of this state. I am sure that we all know that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is one of the great organizations in this country. Seated in this Chamber this morning is the President of that organization. I have just had a conversation with her, and she advises me to vote for this bill, and in so doing I do not think we are cheating the womanhood of this State.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I think that there must be some misconception as to the method intended for the operation of this legislation. It is a well known fact that the Congress of the United States passed the Volstead Act. It is a well known fact that the responsibility for the enforcement of this act is up to each and every state of this Union, and the state of Pennsylvania has on its calendar to-day an act placing the responsibility for this enforcement act in the hands of the District Attorneys in the various counties in this state. If the men who believe that there should be a greater and a more powerful authority than the prosecuting officer of each county, I am not informed as to where that man can be found. It is a well known fact that the Volstead Act enforcement is in the hands of the Internal Revenue Commissioner of the United States. The Revenue Department of the United States Government is the collecting department of moneys, and the department of Justice and the Attorney General is the prosecuting department. That is where this act puts it. Furthermore, perfect laws were never formed. You have more laws amended in each and every session of this legislature than you have new legislation. Perfection will be the time of the millenium. We are taking a step forward, we are doing what is expected of us, and in this legislation the State will make its record and its history that it is supporting the government of the United States. When men say that we are passing a license law we are doing nothing of the kind, we are introducing a tax, practically fifty per cent. of the former tax of the Brooks Law. Now there is a discussion of that element. Let us say we repeal the Brooks Law, and mark you every cigar store, every grocery store, every gentleman that sells any articles of produce will be selling one quarter of one per cent. beer, and every boy and child that wants it knows where they can get it. The provision for the continuation of the Brooks Law is for prohibition in this State. You men who profess prohibition this session are no more sincere than you were two years ago. I take my glass of beer, I take my drink, but I am for prohibition. If you are sincere here is an act for prohibition. All you have to do is to go back home and put the responsibility on the District Attorney. You are wrong in your impression and your judgment that this bill is of no effect or value. It has a greater value than any legislation that has been passed in this session, and therefore, I am going to vote for it.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move the previous question.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Shall the previous question be now put?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

An Act regulating the mining of anthracite coal prescribing duties for certain municipal officers and imposing penalties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I hope the Senators will be just as unanimous in passing these two bills now as they were in the former bills that have just passed. House Bills 1156 and 1157 are companion bills. They are intended to remedy an evil that exists in the anthracite counties, more particularly in Luzerne and Lackawanna. Some Senators have been good enough to consider my feelings in this matter and I want to assure the Senate that I am heartily in favor of these two bills, more particularly than I was in my own and I ask the Senators to be as unanimous in passing these two bills as they were in the bills just passed.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, it will be recalled that when the Mine Cave Bill was before the Senate some days ago I made a statement in opposition to the bill to the effect that we had stood in opposition to the legislation on the ground, not that the conditions in Scranton and vicinity were not of a serious character and required and were entitled to remedy, but that, in our opinion, the legislation involved a principle that was wrong. We were conscientious in that statement, but an extraordinary situation has been since created. There is a crying need for relief from the City of Scranton and vicinity. That relief is voiced in the unanimous attitude of the members of the Senate and the members of the Legislature representing the anthracite region. They are the men who have been sent here by the region affected for the purpose of representing matters that concern especially those districts. We believe that it is our duty to recognize that right. If a principle of law is invaded in this legislation that matter can be considered by the courts. If it is an error it can be righted by future legislation. So far as I am concerned I am going to defer to the opinion of the people of the district affected and withdraw my opposition to this legislation.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, on April 13th I voted against a bill presented by my esteemed friend and colleague from Lackawanna County, Senator Davis. I voted against that bill reluctantly, because of my knowledge of the interest that he had in that bill. I believed then, and I believe now, that we are probably to write into the statutes of Pennsylvania, legislation that may later come back to torment us, but we must look to the future and trust that if we have made such a mistake that future sessions of the Legislature will correct that situation. The House of Representatives saw fit, after the bill was defeated by this body, to pass, almost unanimously, similar bills which we now have before us, and in deference to the views which I have just expressed, and more especially in deference to the wishes of my steemed friend and colleague, Senator Davis, I am going to support these bills as heartily as I fought them in April 13th.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
